Collector Cook yesterday continued the tax sale. He finished Georgetown and got down to letter H of the city list.

Warrants were drawn on the treasurer to the amount of $3,057,37, to pay numerous small bills.

A reject was received from the Beard of School Trustees relative to expenditures for school purposes. The amount set apart last year by the Commissioners was $230,000, Congress added $75,000. making the total fund available $365,000. The comptroller's warrants show that the amount disbursed on account of the schools for the past year was $289,776.40 or an excess of $77,776.40 of the revenues set apart for this purpose. The deficiency as shown above must be met in some way, and the Commissioners propose to off set it by shortening the scholastic years two months, which the board think will not accomplish the desired end unless there be a reduction of the salaries of the teachers and employees. On the basis of last year these amount for the two months to $35,936,44, which will leave still remaining a deficiency of $55,820.05 to be met.

By cutting off sixty days of the school year it is calculated that the expenses will be reduced other than for salaries $20,000 to be provided. On the basis of last year, it will cost $110,000 to keep the schools open eight months, which is $20,000 in excess of the amount set apart by the District Commissioners. The Board of Police Commissioners met last night. The board at its last meeting ordered an examination of the gas metres, to secertain if the company's estimate was correct. It was found that three were registered against the company and five correctly. A bill of $4 for inspecting them was approved.

A communication was received from Superintendent Walling, of New York, recommending that some one be sent to that city to learn the military drill of the police in that city. The communication was referred to Major Richards.

Richards,
Capt. Beach, in his report on the condition of station-houses, said that the Third, Fourth and Eighth preciacts are out of order, and he recommended that the stores in the stations be repaired before it becomes necessary to use them.

Go. Miles was appointed a special officer at

The charges against Lieut, Johnson, preferred by Catharine Balley, were dismissed as being frivolous, malicious and without foundation.

GOODS STOLEN IN LONG BRANCH CONCEALED

IN THIS CITY.

One end of a system of wholesale robbery by the servants of the West End hotel at Long Branch has been developed in this city. The proprictors of the hotel have missed during the season many valuable articles, including carpets, bed-clothing, table-linen, silverware, cutlery and other household articles. Two colored women employed in the house, named Mary Patterson and Ann Matthews, one of whom was detected in carrying linen from the house, were first arrested. About $150 worth of the missing articles were found in a room occupied by these women. This gave a clue to the robberies. Several other servants were suspected, and it happened that all of these had families residing in Washington.

Special Detective Dunn, employed at the hotel, communicated immediately with the detectives of this city, furnishing the necessary names, and Detective McElfresh and McDevitt made an investigation, which resulted in the recovery of a large quantity of the goods which should be a likely though were found in the house of John Rocks, 210 Eighth street northwest; Strong Robinson, 820 Forrth street northwest; John Conteels, 117, L. steet; G. Loe's, 109 L. street southeast and T. Newart's, 615 I street morthwest. The goods, which amount in all to $400, were fully identified by Detective Dunn, as most of the pieces here the name of the hotel. A purse containing a check for $20, lost some time ago by a lady guest at the hotel, was among the pieces here the name of the hotel. A purse containing a check for $20, lost some time ago by a lady guest at the hotel, was among the goods were found the detectives communicated with the endicers at Long Branch, who made the necessary arrests. The goods were packed up in a large dry goods box and shipped to Long Branch last night.

SERVICES AT WASHINGTON GROVE CAMP-

Mostroosensy Coursy, Mb. Aug. 16, 1877.

The meeting last night was of the old-fashioned Methodist sort. The congregation was larger than at any time during the day, and was addressed by Rev. J. H. M. Lemmon, from the text, "As I live, saith the Lord. I have no pleasure in the death of the wicked." When the invitation was extended ten or trelve availed themselves of the opportunity of seeking the parion of sins, and six testified to having found the "pearl of great price." As the time draw near to close the services it was found difficult to get them to repair to high that shouts of "glory" and "halledujah" were sent echoing 1º rough the grove, and long after the benediction had been pronounced asveral hundred persons remained around the altar singing and talking together with evident feelings of irrepressible joy.

This is one of the most beautiful mornings we have had since the beginning. The sky is perfectly cloudless, the air baimy and pleasant, and the ground is in fine condition, neither damp nor dusty. The gathering is larger than on any day since Sanday. The morning trains from Washington and the upper end of the road, brought a large number of visitors, and the woods around the camp are filled with horses and vehicles of every description. The morning meeting was conducted by Rev. B. G. W. Reid, and was quite equal to any preceding meeting in spirituality and interest.

By 10:30 o'clock the tabernarde was well filled and many had seats on the outside. It seems difficult to get some people to understand that it hardly comes within the limits of politicues to sit or stand about in groups and discuss almost any other subject than the one belitting the time and place. Mr. Speake has been very positive, however, and insisted on all persons within the limits of the circle being seated and facing the stand before the service begins. Rev. Goo. V. Leech was the preacher for the morning, and announced as the opening hymn Number 23. "Let not the wise their wisdom boast," after the singing of which prayer was a re which he had interviews with his brother and some friends.

He stated that he left the city Monday evening because he saw some officers approaching the house, and did not want to be locked up. He went to the house of a friend about two miles out of the city. He did not then know the condition of Mason, and did not read of his death until yesterday morning. He said that Friday night he caught Mason in the act of kicking his little child, and asked "What are you kicking that child for?" To this Mason made no reply, but came forward and grappled with him. When the officers came they both got hold of him, and Mason advanced upon him with his fist clenched to strike, when he gave him a tight kick. Gilson was placed in the yau and taken to jail. It is probable that he will be brought out on a writ of habens corpus, so that he may be released on ball.

INTERESTING MARRIAGE CEREMONY.

St. Patrick's church was the scene of a most interesting and happy event yesterday meraing. A Nuptial Mass was sung by the orphan girls of St. Rose's Industrial School, one of them presiding at the organ, on the occasion of Miss Maggie Buckley's marriage with Mr. D. J. Lawlor. The ultar was elegantly lighted up while Father Walter performed the exeremony and during the Mass. The church was well filled by friends of both parties, the Sisters of St. Vincent and of St. Joseph being present, and many of the orphan girls in their neat and becoming dress. Father Walter addressed the happy pair in words of tender affection. The music and singing was most creditable, and a more touching and edifying ceremony has not taken place to St. Patrick's church for many years. Miss Buckley is a graduate of St. Rose's Industrial School.
